

-Teens Families Vs. Young Adults- And Community Members Feb. 26, 2021 at 7:00 PM

Teens, Young Adults, their families, and Community Members come celebrate Rare Disease Day with HSC and Octapharma with a fun night of competition in bleeding disorders knowledge! As part of South Carolina's recognition of Rare Day, we're going to come together to socialize, eat pizza, and see who's smarter; our TEENS or our Young Adults! Octapharma's Nurse Educator will be MCing this Head to Head competition and we want YOU to be a part of it! Participants will be divided into teams.

Teens! You are smart and you know it, now's your chance to prove it! Get your family, brush up on your bleeding disorders facts, and get ready to take the Young Adults down!

Young Adults, we need you! This is your chance to mentor the next generation from your experiences! Take this opportunity to teach the teens a thing or two about living with a bleeding disorder.

Families and individual members, cheer on your teens and young adults while you enjoy some some pizza on HSC! We'll reimburse up to $40 per family and $20 for individuals, but game participation is required. If you would like a GrubHub / Dinner card on Feb 25 to be used for the event, please contact the chapter when you register.

RARE DISEASE DAY®

Rare Disease Day in South Carolina

Since Rare Disease Day falls on a Sunday this year, South Carolina is celebrating it the Friday before. As part of our Rare Disease agenda for 2021, HSC is supporting adding a Rare Disease Council to the Newborn Screening Advisory Committee - SC Bill H 3233.

Advocating for the Bleeding Disorder and Rare communities of South Carolina is always part of our Mission!
