

Come learn, share, and interact

Discover more about bleeding disorders through these programs designed just for you

Disease State: The Science Behind Your Bleeding Disorder

Come learn, share, and interact with people who “get it” because they are living it too. These presentations are custom-designed to help you understand the science behind bleeding disorders or overcome challenges you might face. Presented by a Takeda speaker who will provide the group with practical advice and helpful tips.

Life After High School: Your Bleeding Disorder in Young Adulthood

School Stuff: Self-advocacy and self-discipline will ensure you are ready and prepared for all things college-related and that your treatment is uninterrupted. With the right steps, you can have the college experience that you have always wanted.
