

Come spend a weekend with friends, new & old! We're planning a terrific weekend full of fun activities and sessions that will challenge you, inform you, and inspire you. Share your interests, passion, and ideas about how you can make a difference for yourself and in our community.

The Bleeding Disorders Foundation of North Carolina and the Bleeding Disorders Association of South Carolina are offering this program to teen members free of charge. This includes lodging, busing, all meals and activities.

To sign up, please complete all registration and permission forms and return them no later than Monday, July 10th.

Parents please note that your signature is required on the permission and waiver forms, one form for each participant.

We are thrilled that GutMonkey & The Leading Edge Program will be back with us again this year as they help our teens explore the small ways in which we live our lives, and what it says about who we are and our future goals.

REGISTRATION, PERMISSION AND WAIVER FORMS ARE AVAILABLE ONLINE
