

H.E.L.L.O Annual Statewide Conference “Preparing for Our Future”

Embassy Suites by Hilton Greenville
Golf Resort & Conference Center
670 Verdae Blvd, Greenville, SC 29607

BDASC’s Annual Meeting provides the South Carolina bleeding disorders community the opportunity to come together and network, learn, and enjoy the empowerment of education and support. The presentation of the Chapter’s Annual Awards are provided on Friday night; including our awarding of college scholarships, introducing new board members and celebrating those who have served. A keynote speaker presentation is always a highlight for attendees as we search hard to bring in the very best within bleeding disorders.

Saturday Educational Sessions:

On Saturday, we begin our HELLO Conference with educational sessions, a teen track and childcare programming. The HELLO Conference allows for attendees to enjoy a learning environment with educational presentations and breakout sessions. Information on current and future treatment therapies and bleeding disorders services are made available during our exhibit hall experience. Registration is required with BDASC for attendance. All meals, sessions and childcare are included with hotel accommodation available for our traveling guests. (while rooms last)

Sessions Include but aren’t limited to:

- VWD Sessions
- Milds Matter: Mild Bleeding Disorders
- Men’s Sessions
- Women’s Session
- Advocacy Updates
- Teen Programming - “Preparing for the Future”
- Infusion/Injection Clinic

Childcare Onsite Services: Corporate Kids Events Ages 1-11 years old

We have contracted with Corporate Kids events this year to care for our children ages, 1-11 years. They provide a wealth of experience and the total care you need to enjoy the annual HELLO Conference as your children enjoy activities designed for them. All children enrolled in the "Kids Camp" will need to be registered and a consent form MUST be filled out and sent in to the chapter for all children attending. Limited space is available so register early. You can read about Corporate Kids Events and access the consent form by scanning the QR Code below. Consent form must be filled out and sent to the chapter prior to the event. Unfortunately, online services are not available for the consent forms.

Teen Leadership Alliance: Gut Monkey Presents Leading Edge

Gutmonkey has brought Leading Edge to the bleeding disorder community for 16 years thanks to the generous partnership and sponsorship of Pfizer. Leading Edge is an experiential education program that tackles some of the most current and pressing challenges in the bleeding disorder community through deeply engaging education programming, and was the first national program offered by GutMonkey. Leading Edge is offered to chapters as a teen program, keynote speech, parent program, or general session. Through games, activities, discussions, and meaningful experiences, participants are able to learn about current topics related to their bleeding disorder, consider their personal health goals and outcomes, and connect with other people in their community in a lasting and meaningful environment.
