BDASC 51st Annual State Meeting and Educational Conference Day We proudly hosted our 51st Annual Statewide Meeting and Educational Conference, a two-day event that brought together over 165 attendees from across South Carolina and beyond. This included members of the bleeding disorders community, healthcare professionals, and organizational partners. The event featured the HELLO Conference (Helping Embrace Life Learning Opportunities), with eight presentations designed to support individuals and families in living their best lives with a bleeding disorder. Sessions included topics on advocacy, treatment care, and personal growth. The weekend opened with a celebratory Friday evening dinner, including community awards, recognition of the Board of Directors, and a keynote presentation. Saturday offered educational breakouts, teen programming, and childcare services. Attendees also had the opportunity to engage with home care and pharmaceutical companies at the exhibit hall to learn about the latest therapies and services available.

The event provided critical advocacy awareness and training for attendees, helping to build understanding of current healthcare access initiatives supported by the Chapter. It also served as a platform to voice community concerns and to educate elected officials about the real-life challenges of living with bleeding disorders. Rural Outreach Support Programming: The Voices of 46 In 2024, BDASC conducted over 60 in-person educational outreach programs across South Carolina, reaching communities in the Upstate, Midlands, and Lowcountry regions. These efforts reduced the need for long-distance travel and ensured that families living in rural and underserved areas had access to critical information and support. Program topics included scholarship and camp opportunities, insurance navigation, healthcare policy updates, school and employment resources, and advocacy training. Through this extensive outreach, we were able to provide educational and networking support to hundreds of families throughout the state. As part of our commitment to awareness, BDASC led efforts during National Bleeding Disorders Awareness Month in March, securing seven proclamations from state, county, and city officials to recognize and elevate the visibility of bleeding disorders across South Carolina. In addition to these efforts, we launched a statewide initiative to proclaim special days of awareness specifically honoring our Von Willebrand Disease (VWD) and rare bleeding disorder communities—ensuring their unique challenges and needs received the recognition they deserve.

This three-day weekend event was available to individuals and families free of charge with direct and immediate family members who either have a bleeding disorder, are carriers of a bleeding disorder or have an immediate family member affected. It was hosted in the upstate to provide educational and supportive services, including advocacy training and awareness to our community members throughout the state. Education, supportive services, and family connections with community members was an optimum outcome of this weekend event. This year, we support a health equity summit within the event to address health inequities within the South Carolina Bleeding Disorders Community. Attendees included 38 families, approximately 165 participants, speakers, and guests. We provided an educational and networking component specifically designed for families with children ages 0-6, 7-12, and our teens 13-18. We also provided simultaneously an adult educational track for our childless adults. Exhibiting of treatment therapies and services was available throughout the event. We provided multiple sessions throughout the weekend with national educators on various bleeding disorders issues addressing their needs to include insurance education, school and healthcare self-advocacy, treatment, research, local and national healthcare public policies updates and other related educational and health equity needs. This event was free of charge to all participants.

BDASC Chapter Day at Camps The Bleeding Disorders Association of South Carolina partnered with the South Carolina Hemophilia Treatment Centers and the State Department of Health and Environmental Control to host special Chapter Days at summer camps across the state. These events were designed to support children living with bleeding disorders who are patients of Prisma Health Midstate and Upstate. To ensure accessibility, BDASC provided travel assistance for families in need of transportation support. Each camper received a Chapter Camp Bag filled with fun and useful items, and all camp sessions featured a BDASC-sponsored Ice Cream Social. These special touches helped create a supportive and joyful environment for learning and connection. Camp experiences offered children the chance to build self-confidence and independence, with additional mentoring from BDASC volunteers to reinforce positive self-help and life skills. Our involvement also extended to Camp Courage and the "Brave Blood" family camp hosted by Prisma Health Upstate HTC in Greenville, ensuring continuity of support and encouragement across all regional programs.
